

A close-up photograph of several feathers, likely from a bird, showing intricate patterns of brown, gold, and black. The feathers are layered and have a soft, downy texture. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the fine details of the feather structure against a dark background.

He Puāwaitanga – A Time to Celebrate

He Puāwaitanga is one of the most significant moments in the journey of our tauira – a time to reflect on the challenges overcome, the knowledge gained, and the future that now lies ahead. It's a privilege to join you, your whānau, classmates, and kaiako in celebrating this incredible milestone.

He Puāwaitanga means 'to come to fruition', and represents not just the completion of your studies, but the growth and transformation you have experienced along the way. Today is a testament to your resilience, determination, and commitment to your goals. Whether your journey has taken months or years, you have persevered through challenges and emerged stronger. For that, we acknowledge and celebrate you.

We've long believed that education is transformative, and our vision, "He takapau mātauranga, he whānau huarewa—whānau transformation through education," speaks to the impact learning has beyond the individual. When one person succeeds, their whānau, hapū, and iwi benefit too. That's why your achievement today is not just yours alone—it's something to be shared and celebrated by all those who have supported you along the way.

At Te Wānanga o Aotearoa, our mission is simple: 'Kia angitu te tauira – tauira success'. Success means something different for each of you. For some, this tohu will open doors to new career opportunities. For others, it represents a pathway to empowering your whānau, marae, hapū, iwi, and wider community. No matter what success looks like to you, today is about recognising how far you've come and the possibilities that now await.

I encourage you to embrace the opportunities that come next. Continue striving for excellence, continue learning, and continue using your skills and knowledge to create positive change. This is not the end of your learning journey, but a stepping stone to whatever comes next. Education is lifelong, and we hope to see many of you return to learn with us again in the future. Wherever your path leads, know that you'll always be a valued part of our whānau.

Take pride in this moment, celebrate your success, and enjoy the recognition you have worked so hard for. We're all incredibly proud of you.

From closed doors to open pathways

Craig Kara | Taurira

When Grace Foundation Whanganui closed in September, Craig Kara didn't see it as an ending; instead, he saw it as an opportunity to create something new.

Drawing on the skills and knowledge he gained through the Manaaki Tāngata programme at Te Wānanga o Aotearoa, Craig is on a mission to launch his own kaupapa to fill the gap. Te Ara Kimihia, which represents seeking the right pathway, is dedicated to supporting tāne in finding the right path for their future.

"I held a leadership role at Grace Foundation before it closed, that's why I chose to study Manaaki Tāngata, to better myself and my leadership. But I also found my purpose and passion this year, to help tāne and people like me," he says.

Throughout his life, Craig has battled with addiction which has led to some tough challenges and mistakes that he has had to learn and grow from.

Studying Manaaki Tāngata gave Craig the opportunity to rethink and reposition his past, transforming discomfort into growth, and giving him the drive to help others who are facing similar struggles.

"The programme has been amazing. It's deconstructed me and reconstructed me. I'm a living testament of what can happen when you have the right support around you. Now I want to provide that sort of service and support for other men as well."

With the support of Grace Foundation, Te Ara Kimihia is in the early stages of development, but Craig is determined to have it registered as a charity and serving the community.

Craig also plans to continue his studies with the goal of earning a PhD, driven by his belief that education is a powerful way of transforming whānau and communities.

"Studying Manaaki Tāngata far exceeded my expectations. If you want to develop a new and better version of yourself then this programme is for you. I didn't just learn how to connect with others and regulate my emotions, it was a healing journey too."

Toi tauira to kaiako series

Desiree Moat-Rangikataua | Tauira

Many of our toi kaiako are former tauira. After graduating, they realise that they want to share their knowledge and help others discover their own talents.

In the first of our tauira-to-kaiako series, Heretaunga toi kaiako Desiree Moat-Rangikataua, shares the joy she feels in being a kaitiaki for her tauira.

You were a tauira with Te Wānanga o Aotearoa before you became a kaiako. Why did you choose to study with us?

I was drawn to Te Wānanga o Aotearoa because, at the time, it was the only place I knew of where I could learn to weave, but I ended up finding so much more than just raranga. I was welcomed into te ao Māori, and without even realising it, I began a journey of reconnection to my culture, my tīpuna, and to myself.

That first step into the wharenuī changed everything and started a journey that shaped me, healed parts of me, and continues to guide me. I look back now and honestly wouldn't change a thing.

What led you to become a kaiako? Was there a pivotal moment that made you want to shift from learning to teaching?

I never saw myself teaching. I used to say, "I'll never be a kaiako." Āe, tino kē! But sometimes our tīpuna have other plans for us.

After 2 years of studying raranga, I stepped into the reo Māori classroom. However, while I was learning te reo, I kept feeling this pull back towards raranga.

The timing was divine. I wasn't happy in my job. I was searching for something more fulfilling and then I got a call inviting me to apply for a kaiako role. I questioned myself as I didn't think I was good enough. But my whānau and hoa tautoko believed in me so I took the leap – and I'm so glad I did.

How has your experience as a former tauira influenced the way you teach your tauira today?

Being a former tauira is my superpower. I know what it's like to walk into class not knowing what to expect. I know what it's like to doubt yourself, to juggle whānau, mahi, and study. Because I've been there, I teach from that place, with compassion, structure, and realness.

I teach the way I was taught by my kaiako: with patience, manaaki, and high expectations wrapped in aroha. As I learn more, I'm weaving in my own style that reflects my journey and my values. I'm also studying He Pūawai because I want my tauira to get the absolute best of me. They deserve nothing less.

What has surprised you most about being a kaiako compared to being a tauira?

Realising I've stepped into the kaitiaki role. It's not just about passing on knowledge, it's about holding space, uplifting others, and carrying the kaupapa with integrity.

As a tauira, you focus on your own growth. As a kaiako, you carry the responsibility for the growth of your tauira which hits different.

What advice would you give to tauira who might be considering following in your footsteps — from being a tauira to being a kaiako?

Don't be afraid to grow. Growth often looks like discomfort – like stepping into spaces you never thought you'd belong in. But e te tau, that's where the magic is.

Say yes to the opportunities that scare you. Surround yourself with people who lift you. And remember when you teach, you're not just passing on knowledge, you're carrying on the dreams of our tīpuna. There's so much beauty in that.

Trust your path, even if you can't see the full picture yet. The journey has already begun, and you're more ready than you think.
