WHAT IS IT?

Disruptive by Nature (DBN) is a youth-focused wānanga designed to challenge our current thinking and inspire us to consider new possibilities. DBN also provides an opportunity for kaimahi to:

- Be inspired and re-energise
- Explore innovative concepts and technologies
- Offer new insights around rangatahi engagement and resilience
- Connect with other colleagues

Over 120 kaimahi attended our inaugural DBN conference last year in Hamilton. The feedback was overwhelmingly positive, with the majority of attendees reporting it had a profound impact on their thinking and future practice.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

The one-day wānanga will feature a range of exciting speakers including young Māori entrepreneurs, leaders in disruptive innovation and technology as well as youth experts.

This year's themes are:

- 1. Rangatahi success young innovators and entrepreneurs
- 2. Fast forward to the future disruptive innovation and technology
- 3. Rangatahi engagement creative and successful strategies

WHO IS IT FOR?

Disruptive by Nature is for Te Wānanga o Aotearoa kaimahi who work with, or have an interest in, youth and/or innovation. Whether you are a YG kaiako, kaitiaki, leader, programme designer, recruiter, a creative or manager - if you want to be challenged and inspired, Disruptive by Nature won't disappoint.

Please email completed form to jade.chase@twoa.ac.nz no later than Thursday 30th November, 5pm.
